Ah!

The element of surprise

NWO CHAINS is the largest annual Dutch chemistry conference. It is the event where chemists from science and industry come together: PhD students, postdocs, professors and R&D scientists. Every year more than 1500 participants take part in this conference. Two full days dedicated to chemistry.

NEW: TEAMING UP WITH INDUSTRY

At NWO CHAINS 2022 we offer you the opportunity to Team up with NWO CHAINS participants to tackle challenges your organisation is currently facing. During the two days of NWO CHAINS, you can pose a scientific question, industrial or societal challenge or statement for which you would like to get fresh ideas. Visitors can respond, think along, or brainstorm with you on the subject of a case submitted by you. Your case will be displayed at the NWO CHAINS conference where visitors can discuss them, leave their thoughts, and share ideas and opinions. This highly interactive new part of the programme is a pilot and free of charge.

Interested in Teaming up with Industry? Please, let us know as soon as possible as limited slots are available.
